be duly carried out. These additional facilities are certainly likely to prove of almest as much importance to the transmarine commerce of California, as the construction of the Pacific rairoad itself.

An informant anny Onom.—The present head of the War Department seems to be most anxious to referm and systematics the imperfect code harvofore governing courte martial in the service. The following (which is in keeping with two or three similar general orders recently appearing) is probably to this end:—

General Orders of Substantial Substantial Department Adjust 23, 1853.

The following order has been received from the War Department, and is published to the army:—

When the proceedings of a general court martial have been duly confirmed by "the officer covering the court or the officer commanding the troops for the time being," a provided in the sixty fifth article of war, the "power is provided in the sixty fifth article of war, the "power begains or to mitigate any punishment ordered by mach court," is vected in the amon authority, under the ighty seventh article of war, and in the President of the failed States under the officer appointing the court, and self-uning the proceedings, or when he sees a dt case for expective decimancy. But such military commander to the officer appointing the court, and self-uning the proceedings, or when he sees a dt case for expected by law with power to anni or pardon the sensors. As a legal judgment, it so stands till vacated in the courts of law.
